LEGISLATIVE CORRUPTION.

DUASHING OF SOME OF THE INDICTMENTS IN THE PENNSYLVANIA BRIBERY CASES -A LEGAL TECHNICALITY RETARDING THE COURSE OF

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD.]

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 26, 1879. As was foreshadowed yesterday the Court this afternoon quashed the indictment against ex-Repreentative Salter, charged with having offered money to eight members of the Legislature for their votes for the $4,000,000 Riot Claims bill, and having afterward committed perjury by swearing before the legislative committee that he had not corruptly approached anybody. Although the prosecution ngaged such distinguished lawyers as Judge had engaged such distinguished lawyers as Judge Black, of this State, and Senator Carpenter, of Wisconsin, it was evident, after the defence had shown that twenty-four persons participated in the findings, that the Court would set aside the indictments. The prosecution relied upon the record, which showed that only twenty-three grand jurors had been sworn, but by the evidence it was shown that one more was on the jury, and that the one supposed to have been excused took part in the deliberations of the body. The Court overruled all the motions of the defence to quash the indictments, except that relating to the defective Grand Jury, and at the conclusion of the decision Judge Pearson said:—

"I am very sorry to have come to this conclusion, ecause it is not trying the case on its merits, and nese men, if they escape their trial this time, scape on what might be called substantial technicalities."

The Judge also indicated that the indictments against the eight others accused of corrupt solicitation of members of the Legislature, two others accused of a similar offence and of perjury, would fall with this decision. The prosecution resisted this with this decision. In prosecution resisted this with this decision, lasting nearly two hours, Judge Pearson agreed to suspend judgment in the other cases. The District Attorney called the name of Alexander W. Leisenring, president of the First National Bank or Mauch Chunk, who is alleged to have offered to divide with two members of the Legislature from his county the expected profits from speculations in Pennsylvania Railroad stock, which he predicted would rise in value on the passage of the Riot Losses bill. The defendant was not in the court room and his counsel said that he was not in the court room and his counsel said that he was not in the court room and his counsel said that he was not in the court room and his counsel said that he was not in the court room and his counsel said that he was not in the court room and his counsel said that he was not in the city. The Court then fixed the beginning of the trial for Friday afternoon,

PROMISED EVIDENCE.

The prosecution will furnish evidence that will contradict that submitted by the defence, and which is expected to show that the Grand Jury was tampered with. It is doubtful if they will be able to prevent the other indictments from being quashed, unless they should prove that two of the Grand Juryor who testified perjured themselves. In the event of the Court deciding all the cases in favor of the defence, the legislative prosecuting committee will have new bills drawn in the cases of the accused, which will be submitted to the Grand Jury of the January term. There is no doubt that they will again be indicted for the same offences as before.

A LIVING BURIAL

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD.]

 MATAWAN, N. J., Nov. 26, 1879. James Quirk, a young man in the employ of Jacob Wyckoff, a farmer, living four miles east of this place, was buried alive by the caving in of a sand bank to-day. He was carting sand from a pit, and was loading up his wagon at the time. He was found two or three hours after the accident three feet under the sand, his head bent over so that it touched his feet, indicating that he had been caught while in the act of putting his shovel in the sand.

INHUMAN BRUTALITY OF A MOTHER.

A CHILD THREE YEARS OLD BEATEN TO IN-SENSIBILITY BY A DEUNKEN PARENT.

A shocking case of drunken brutality came to light last night, the details of which are blood curdling. At eleven o'clock George Lanse, a respectable German residing at No. 47 West Broadway, called at the Chambers Street Hospital with his little threeyear-old son Willie in his arms. The little fel-low's head was besten and cut in a terrible manner. His shoulders and back were bruised and his right arm was lacerated, and, as the doctors ents were drenched with blood which flowed from several gashes on the back of the head. ommitted by his wife Elizabeth, He said that he was employed in the manufactory Goldsmith & Hoffman, in Fourteenth street. He has been married to his wife for twenty years. ssor of a happy home. He was thritty and hardworking and hoped to lay up enough money for his old age. But the demon drink began to appear in his household and soon his home went to ruin. About two years ago his wife began a series of sprees which have recurred at regular intervals up to the present time. Mr. Lanse says that his wife has been drinking very heavily for the past few days. Yesterlay morning he went to work at six o'clock. leaving little Willie, aged three years, and Georgie, aged six years, in charge of his wife. About two years ago his aged six years, in charge of his wife. According to the accounts of the neighbors Mrs. Lanse got up sarly and began to send out Georgie for whiskey. The little fellow procured the liquor several times, but finally finding his mother was becoming frantically drunk he became afraid, and ran away from the house. Then Mrs. Lanse sent out little willie, who was just able to toddle up and down the stairs. The little child refused to go out when he saw his mother in such a condition.
Then the mother, insane with drink, seized a broomstick and began to beat the child until she was exhausted, when she hurled him insonsible to the floor. When Mr. Lanse came heme he found his little boy lying on the floor, his garments all torn and his childish features bathed in blood. His wife was lying on the floor, his unmerciful beating and was at once taken to the the Chambers Street Hospital, where he lies in a very precarious condition. Mr. Lanse informed a Herald reporter that he intended to have his wife arrested. The father was unable to find his other son, who had been driven away from the house. Last night word was received at Police Headquariers that the l'ttle fellow had been found at the corner of Eighth avenue and Forty-eighth street.

RECOGNIZED HIS WATCH.

THE OWNER OF A CHATHAM STREET JEWELRY STORE ARRESTED ON SUSPICION OF KEEPING

William hallissy, a middle-aged man of small stature, where pawnbrokers' unredeemed pledges are exposed for sale. In passing this place a day or two ago Mr. Luke Hart, of No. 30 Prince street, who two months ago had his watch stolen in Catharine street, saw one which he supposed to be it in the window. He informed Detectives Titus and Carr, of Captain Tynan's precinct, of his suspicions. On Tuesday night the detectives with Hart visited the store. Hart went in and asked to see the watch, aying he would like to buy it. Hallissy was showing it to him when the detectives entered. Titus answered that he had bought it of a pawnbroker, but when further questioned would not give the name or residence of the latter. He was then arrested. Detective Titus then visited Police Headquarters to see the numbers of some of the watches advertised as lost. When he returned to the store he found there John McLoughlin, Hallissy's clerk, twenty years old, who claimed to be a partner in the business. From him Titus obtained the key of the sare, which, when opened, was found to contain a great number of watches, rings and other jewelry. These were taken to the station house. The prisoners were arraigned yesterday morning in the Tombs Court, but remanded at the request of the detectives. Joseph Cohen, of No. 50 Allen street, recognized among the property a valuable stem-winder, numbered 8,698, as his watch. He lost it about two weeks ago in Bayard street, in an assault made upon him by two unknown men. In the afternoon further time to secure evidence was asked by the detectives and granted them by Justice Otterbourg. The prisoner's counsel, A. H. Hummell, asked that they should not be remanded again, and the magistrate said that he would decide the matter to-day. Detective Titus said last night that so far five persons have identified watches found on Hailissy's premises as theirs. In the captain's room there were spread out some seven or eight cases of jewelry. There were 10 gold and 146 silver watches, and hundreds of gold rings, gold poucis, scorf pins, bracelets, earrings and other jewelry. The following inventory of the numbers of the watches has been made with a view to ascertaining weether any of them will be claimed as stolen property.

These watches are open face and gold double face; answered that he had bought it of a pawnbroker,
